Direct marketing and important points regarding opting out

You are always in control of the direct marketing communications which you receive and can opt-out at any time.

If you provide us with your contact information when registering your interest through our website, contacting us directly (including via phone or email), engaging in our candidate onboarding process or otherwise engaging with us as a candidate or potential candidate, we may send you direct marketing from Clicks IT Recruitment, and you consent to us communicating with you via email or SMS to send you legislative updates, newsletters, and/or notifications of available jobs that may be of interest to you, or as otherwise allowed under applicable privacy laws.

You can opt-out by following the relevant unsubscribe instructions in the relevant communication (such as email or SMS message).

Importantly, regardless of whether you opt out from receiving any or all direct marketing communications, we will still communicate with you if we are required by law to provide you with information, or in relation to the services we are providing you with (for example, in relation to a job you have enquired about or applied for through us). If you opt-out of marketing communications, we will still need to communicate with you (for example to update you on the progress of an application you have made through us, or follow-up on our post-placement obligations once you have commenced placement at a job you obtained using our services).

Who will we share your personal information with?

Further to the third-party disclosures we have set out in the table above (see 'Why do we collect, store and use your personal information?'), we may share your personal information with:

- potential and actual employers and clients of Clicks IT Recruitment;
- our third party providers who assist us during the onboarding process, including Referoo and Workpro;
